A FEAST of music, colour and family fun filled Calder Holmes Park in Hebden Bridge for Happy Valley Pride's Pink Pride Picnic.

Organisers said this year's picnic was their busiest yet, with 1,900 people flocking to enjoy the day.

There was entertainment from singers Horse McDonald, Beaa Azra, CN Lester and Terry Logan; poetry from Clare Shaw and a DJ set by Red Helen.

The Handmade Parade team were offering the chance to create hats and dog costumes, while the pink pooch dog parade - including categories for 'best dressed', 'gorgeous golden oldie' and 'waggiest tail' - proved a huge hit.

The picnic, on Saturday, was part of the Happy Valley Pride Festival which also included an exhibition, online discussions and a family-friendly vogue ball at the Huddersfield Centre on Sunday.
